2025 FREDRICKIA HARGROVE POSTER CONTEST

Division 4: 7th Grade

Argumentative Essay Prompt

SCENARIO

Imagine your 7th-grade class is like a mini-Kentucky, with students from different backgrounds, cultures, and perspectives. You might have classmates who love sports, others who are passionate about music, and some who excel in math and science.

Sometimes, these differences can lead to misunderstandings, disagreements, or even conflict. But what if we could turn these differences into strengths? What if, instead of focusing on what divides us, we focused on what unites us?

That's the power of bridge-building – the ability to connect with people who are different from us, find common ground, and work together to achieve common goals.

Think about the leaders you admire – athletes, activists, politicians, or even your teachers and parents. The best leaders can often bring people together, inspire collaboration, and create positive change. In Kentucky, we have a long history of leaders who have built bridges across racial, economic, and political divides to make our state a better place for everyone.

WRITING TASK:

In an argumentative essay, take a position on the following statement: "Young people have the power to build bridges and break down walls in their communities by embracing diversity, practicing empathy, and working together to solve problems."

SUPPORTING YOUR ARGUMENT:

To support your position, consider the following:

- Examples of young leaders: Research examples of young people in Kentucky and around the world who have made a positive impact by building bridges across differences. What strategies did they use? What challenges did they overcome?
- The benefits of diversity: Explore the ways in which diversity can enrich our lives and communities. How can we learn from people who are different from us? What are the benefits of working together with people from diverse backgrounds?
- Personal experiences: Reflect on your own experiences interacting with people who are different from you. Have you ever had a misunderstanding with someone because of your differences? How did you resolve it? What did you learn from the experience?
